

---

Michael was honest about his concerns and questions about the course leading him to ask for help from the instructor when he needed it the most. Throughout the course he was able to stay focused and complete assignments ahead of schedule.

